

DIGITAL LEARNING THAT LEARNERS LOVE

We use digital design to solve problems, tell stories, create new experiences and change behaviours. We'll make your content come alive and broaden your digital horizons. Your project is our challenge. We'll bring all our expertise to the table to help you see new solutions. Let great, award-winning design change your thinking.

HOW WE WORK WITH YOU

- Consultative approach
- Huge and versatile range of solutions
- Innovation through design thinking

DESIGNED FOR YOU

We build digital from scratch. We use the right tool for the job - and that's not always, necessarily, our own tool. We craft, analyse, create and refine ideas that we then realise using a vast array of specialist digital skills.

You know your content, we know design and build. Each project teaches us something new about you, about digital design and about how to connect deeply with your audience.

Whether it's a mobile app, an immersive web experience, an interactive video, a drama or augmented reality training, we strive to be a catalyst for positive change.

'Compelling, engaging and intuitive - when you don't realise you're learning, that's the best learning!'

HUGE AND VERSATILE RANGE OF SOLUTIONS

Our versatile portfolio spans everything from elearning and blended learning courses, to mobile learning, simulations, games, digital communications, video, assessment tools, and more.

GAMES

Yes it's work, but that doesn't mean you should discount the power of play to make learning stick.

We build micro games, board games, collaborative games, augmented reality games. We use them for all types of learning, including compliance.

VIDEO

Immerse your learners in real-life situations. Help them develop empathy. Let them make timely decisions and see the impact of their actions.

We make great explainers and information videos, but we're also great at making drama-based videos with filmic values that tell a story. Stories that make you cry. Stories that make you laugh. Stories that make people think differently.

PORTALS & MICROSITES

You're a creator at heart. That's why we developed our self-build microsite maker - a beautiful balance of simplicity and advanced front-end web development - specifically for workplace learning and communications.

COMMUNICATION DESIGN

Creating a real change in attitudes and awareness through a communications campaign requires a strong mix of skills.

We're here to help, with the full skillset you need and deep understanding of the discipline. Video teasers, posters, job aids, fortune cookie messages, memes, well-placed emoticons or the underrated medium of dance. Nothing's off the table...

OUR METHOD

When all you have is a hammer, everything looks like a nail. But we'll address your learning challenges with a large and varied toolkit - and an open mind. Our versatile portfolio spans everything from elearning and blended learning courses, to mobile learning, simulations, games, digital communications, video, assessment tools, and more.
