FOR LEARNERS

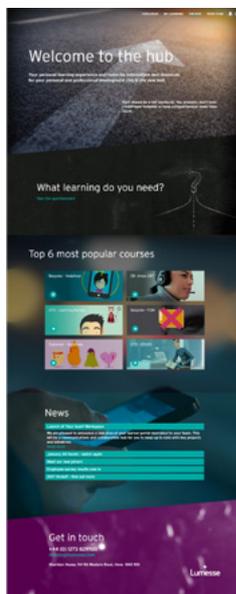

Unlike traditional, admin-driven learning management systems, Learning Gateway provides a more personalised and engaging learning experience. Its capabilities perfectly align with changing market requirements for learning platforms driven by the emergence of 'self-developing organisations'.

A highly customisable, learner-centric interface directly targets the needs of self-directed learners who can take an active role in their development. Empower your people with self-service functionality, easy yet powerful search capabilities and a choice of supported languages.

FOR ADMINISTRATORS

Learning Gateway's integrated reporting system and advanced evaluation methods enable you to manage training requirements proactively and help you:

- Control training costs
- Focus training needs
- Evaluate effectiveness
- Allocate resources effectively

FLEXIBLE DISTRIBUTION AND LEARNING INSIGHTS

Our full range of reports gives you greater understanding of usage throughout your organisation. Create tests to measure knowledge retention, and evaluations to assess the quality of training. As well as having the elearning distribution functionality, you can create activities and Instructor-Led training sessions, and manage user registration and completion.

As well as being able to distribute elearning, you can package related courses into standard bundles for ease of distribution or set up complete training programmes using learning paths.

CREATE YOUR OWN CUSTOMISED LEARNING PORTALS

Not only can Learning Gateway be customised to reflect your organisation's brand and values, it also supports the creation of multiple sub-brands. With no programming expertise required, you can create different curriculum for different user group requirements, each with their own look and feel, with access allowed or restricted to specific roles.

Here are some examples of the different types of portals that our customers commonly create.

Front-end learning access to provide a 'shop-window' view of the learning available. This is particularly good for promoting new learning content.

Communities of practice to target content at particular user groups. Good for organising a range of digital learning (whether created or curated) on the same subject.

Targeted communications to support new initiatives. To help you communicate and manage change.

AVAILABLE ON ANY DEVICE

Launch and track elearning on your desktop, tablet or mobile, enabling you to deliver learning content and your learners to access it anytime and anywhere.
